It was a hot summer's day; most of the cricketers were into their sixties, but they still provided a keen competitive and entertaining match between 10.30 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Sunday at the Jeffcott oval in Donald.

The Vic Country Veterans were drawn from Bendigo, Echuca, Kerang, Rochester, Donald, St. Arnaud, Horsham and Mildura.

As their name would suggest, the Hamilton Veterans were from the Hamilton district.

Batting first, and with a restricted number of overs per player, Vic Country was all out for 144, top scorers being Russell Bott 31 retired not out, Shane Noonan 23, David Letts 21 retired not out, Barry Hopper 21, and Greg Bailey 19.

Wicket-takers for Hamilton were Geoff Barker 3/14, Gavin Keaney 2/11, Craig Marrow 1/21.

In reply, Hamilton produced an impressive winning line-up, with six players reaching double figures in a total of 4/150. Those retiring not out were Darren Groves 33, Craig Marrow 32, Neil Blizzard 25, Geoff Barker 15, and Chris Hutchins 10. Dave Spencer also scored 10.

Vic Country wicket-takers were John Thomas 1/25, Trevor Sing 1/23, David Letts 1/22, and David Wilson 1/7.

Officiating at Sunday's game was Wimmera Mallee Association umpire Daryl Broughton.

Slothful Scene at Watchem Lake

Watchem locals were delighted and bemused as a new resident, Pete, paddled his way around the entirety of Watchem Lake — on an inflatable sloth.

Pete, who recently moved to Watchem from Melbourne to work at the local lentil farm as a machinist, decided to make his debut in the community with a unique aquatic adventure.

Armed with nothing but an oversized inflatable sloth and using only his hands to paddle, he spent hours navigating the tranquil waters of the lake, drawing the attention of locals and wildlife alike.

What made his journey even more remarkable was the support he received from an unexpected entourage of ducks. As he paddled, dozens of ducks surrounded him, quacking curiously and accompanying him for part of his journey.

"I became one with the ducks," Pete said with a grin. "We really connected. It felt like I'd made some proper friends on the lake."

The spectacle sparked excitement among Watchem residents, many of whom stopped to wave, snap photos, and cheer him on. One local, Gloria, called it "the most wholesome thing I've seen in years."

Pete promises more escapades in the future, hinting at a "koala float" next time.

For now, Watchem has gained not just a new resident, but a new story that will be told fondly for years to come.

Letter to the Editor

Salvos Christmas Thank You Letter

(The Editor, "The Times")

Dear Editor.— With the start of a new year, 2025 offers us a chance to reflect on the year that has passed, and also look forward to the new beginnings offered in the year ahead.

For The Salvos, looking back on 2024 means reflecting on the one person every seventeen seconds that we helped throughout the year. It is a privilege to stand alongside Aussies doing it tough and provide them with support and hope.

It also means reflecting on the generosity of you, the Australian public, who help make this vital work possible. So, from all of us at The Salvation Army, and on behalf of all those we support every day, to the Australian public we say thank you.

Thank you particularly for your generosity towards our Christmas Appeal, which helped provide a special Christmas to those who would have otherwise gone without.

If it wasn't for your support, kids would have gone without presents under the tree, families without a special Christmas meal and many without hope and joy during the festive season. For this, we say thank you.

Now, as we look towards 2025, The Salvation Army wants to make an encouragement to those around the country.

While some Australians were in the position to give to The Salvos during Christmas, many others found it to be one of the most financially crippling times of the year, particularly as our nation faces a cost-of-living crisis.

To anyone who found themselves in that position, and now may be facing debt, financial hardship or stress about money, we want to let you know that there is hope at the start of this year.

The Salvos Moneycare service offers free and confidential financial counselling to thousands of Aussies each year, helping them to get on top of their finances. There is no better time than the start of a new year to take a fresh look at your finances and get on top of your financial situation.

We encourage all Australians to take a look at their finances this year, and if you are struggling to cope financially, please reach out to The Salvation Army's Moneycare service. We are here for you, and there is no shame in reaching out for support.

Please don't wait until it is too late. Reach out to Moneycare today by visiting salvationarmy.org.au/moneycare or call 1800 722 363.

Colonel Rodney Walters.

A Big Surprise

(By Lorna Hurst)

A recent news item about an escaped elephant in a street in the USA reminded me of a local elephant story.

About ninety years ago, my father, Arch Dunstan, was driving myself, aged ten, and my younger sisters to the Jeffcott North School from the farm. We were in a horse and gig.

As we came down the road, we were astounded to see of all things, an elephant standing in the road with its head over the fence eating the crop.

The horse became frozen to the spot when it saw the elephant and stood there quivering in fright.

My dad gently managed to turn the horse and gig away from the elephant. Luckily, it did not bolt. Then we were passed by a giant truck from Wirths Circus, who had been in Donald that night. Three keepers got out the truck and proceeded to encourage the elephant to get on board, which it obligingly did.

We last saw it driving to Charlton with the top of the elephant's head visibly poking up in the air.

It turned out the elephant had escaped in the night and walked all the way to Jeffcott before it was apprehended, leaving behind three amazed children, and one equally stunned horse.

Bushfires Burn in Tourist Season: Opposition Leader Visits Hall Gap

Mallee business owners under persistent threat of bushfire told Leader of the Opposition Peter Dutton they cannot secure the insurance they need to protect their livelihoods, after his visit organised by Member for Mallee, Dr Anne Webster.

Mr Dutton, also called on the Victorian Labor Government to lift its game and seek federal disaster recovery funding assistance, after meeting with fire-affected Halls Gap community members on Wednesday alongside Dr. Webster, Shadow Minister for Emergency Management Senator Perin Davey, and Shadow Minister for Immigration and Member for Wannon, Dan Tehan.

Dr Webster echoed Mr Dutton's calls for Australians to return to Halls Gap in droves to help local businesses recover.

"Words fail me again to describe the heartache and devastation of bushfire in the Grampians, struck twice in twelve months by natural disaster", Dr Webster said. "I invited the Leader of the Opposition Peter Dutton to visit the Halls Gap community on Wednesday to offer support, and two key things we all heard about were businesses' desperate financial situation and the failure of the insurance market to protect them."

Homes Destroyed

The previous fires in February at nearby Pomonal and Dadswells Bridge destroyed 45 Pomonal homes in their community of 300, costing the local economy an estimated $200 million and hundreds of thousands of tourists. Insurance premiums rose locally as a result.

On December 17, dry lightning started a fire which burned for three weeks near the 450-strong community of Halls Gap. The fire burned 76,000 hectares, destroying four homes in Moyston and Mafeking, 40 outbuildings and 540 kilometres of fencing. The fire also burned 10,053 hectares of pasture, 1285 beehives and killed 775 sheep – not to mention the incalculable cost to flora and fauna.

Strong Message

"The strong message Peter Dutton, my shadow ministerial colleagues and I received at Halls Gap was that the fire struck during the year's prime tourist season, said Dr. Webster. I walked the empty streets of Halls Gap just after Christmas, with the community shut down due to the fire threat. Small businesses missed their busiest trading period over summer; it was a ghost town. I understand tourism numbers were already down 20 per cent from February's fires," Dr Webster said.

"Insurance costs for some Halls Gap businesses have almost quadrupled since the Pomonal fires, and I fear that both the Halls Gap and Los Angeles bushfires will further harm the global insurance pool and drive premiums up further. But worse still, most Halls Gap businesses tell me they cannot secure insurance at all."

"Tourism operators earn between a quarter and a third of their annual income during the lost three-week period in December-January, with businesses collectively losing an estimated $1.9 million per day."

Under the Emergency Management arrangements reformed by the former Coalition government the 2019/20 bushfire season, the Federal Government as of January 5 had granted 43 local "Category A" disaster recovery allowance claims, paying out $15,000 with individuals and businesses having until June 23 to lodge their claims. However, three larger Category B, C and D assistance packages rely on the Victorian Government to ask for help.

"As of yesterday, to their shame, the Victorian Government had not requested that Federal assistance a repeat of their tardiness after February's fires," Dr Webster said.

"Insurance costs for some Halls Gap businesses have almost quadrupled since the Pomonal fires, and I fear that both the Halls Gap and Los Angeles bushfires will further harm the global insurance pool and drive premiums up further. But worse still, most Halls Gap businesses tell me they cannot secure insurance at all."

"Already under the Albanese Labor Government insurance costs have risen 18 per cent and I am working with locals and the insurance industry to find solutions. I am pleased to say that Peter Dutton committed to speaking to the Prime Minister and to consider policy to fix this situation. Insurance companies should have an obligation to provide insurance, or businesses simply will pack up and leave."

Dr Webster also joined Mr Dutton and Coalition colleagues in Pomonal on Wednesday afternoon to thank CFA volunteers for their life-saving efforts.

Potholes for All Seasons Campaign

Victorians are being encouraged to highlight the worst potholes in the state through a new campaign to apply more pressure on the State Government to fix our appalling roads.

The Nationals and Liberals have launched a statewide photo competition, with the best (or worst) potholes to feature in a 2025 "Potholes for All Seasons" Calendar that will be presented to Premier Jacinta Allan and Roads and Road Safety Minister Melissa Horne.

Victorians are invited to submit photos of potholes or road damage they believe require urgent attention to <http://www.potholepics.com>

The Nationals' Member for Mildura, Jade Benham, said Victoria's roads have been going backwards for years after successive road maintenance budget cuts under Labor.

• Jade Benham.

Ms Benham encouraged motorists to only take photos of roads where they can do so safely, and without putting other road users at risk.

Charlton Probiants Meet

The Charlton Probus Club held its first meeting for 2025 on Friday, January 10.

The thirty-six members present were wished a Happy New Year. Graham Curnow entertained the group with his rendition of "The Cattle Dog's Revenge". "Happy Birthday" was sung to Denise Winsall and Di Field.

The guest speaker was Bill Freeman who spoke about wills. Some of the topics Bill mentioned were: revoking a will, appointing executors, joint tenants and tenants in common, letters of administration, intestacy, granting of Probate, Medical Power of Attorney and Financial Power of Attorney. Bill then answered questions. Thanks to Bill for filling in on short notice and reminding us that when we have a valid will, we give ourselves the best chance of making sure our assets go where we want them to go.

A Call To Reverse Skills Funding Cuts

As Victoria scrambles to address skills shortages across sectors as diverse as construction and healthcare, the State Government has made another callous cut to crucial training funding.

Vital Skills First funding has been slashed from Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) with the axing of the 10 per cent funding premium set aside for students to undertake online learning.

Skills First funding enables RTOs to deliver subsidised courses and skill sets in areas where demand for jobs is high. It also includes additional funding for delivery in regional areas.

This follows last year's decision by the Allan Labor Government to slash training allocations to hundreds of RTOs across Victoria by 35 per cent, despite ongoing skill shortages.

"The government's brutal funding cuts will have devastating and far-reaching consequences for RTOs, their staff and their students," Nationals' MP for Mildura, Jade Benham said.

"The Minister for Skills and Training must reinstate this critical funding. Cuts to programs like Skills First, while we face critical shortages in so many regional sectors, show just how out of touch this government is.

"These cuts are hurting regional and rural students who simply don't have access to the same training services as their city counterparts. These subsidies are critical to supporting regional employment pathways.

"This is just another consequence of the Labor Government's financial mismanagement and cost cutting, and regional Victorians are paying the price."

Game Bird Harvest Report is Available

The Game Management Authority (GMA) has released the Estimates of Duck and Stubble Quail Harvest in Victoria 2024 report.

Results show an estimated 391,900 game ducks were harvested in 2024, which is 22 per cent above the long-term average of 320,000.

Of the 21,383 licensed duck hunters, 60 per cent actively hunted in 2024. On average, active duck hunters harvested an estimated 30.3 ducks during the season over an average of 8.9 days.

The three most commonly harvested species were the Pacific Black Duck (39 per cent of the total harvest), Grey Teal (25 per cent of the total harvest) and Australian Wood Duck (24 per cent of the total harvest).

Most Popular

The most popular hunting areas, with the highest numbers of ducks harvested, were around the towns of Sale, Kerang, Boort, Horsham, and Shepparton.

Results also show an estimated 457,400 Stubble Quail were harvested in 2024. This is almost triple the long-term average of 159,000 and is the second largest Stubble Quail harvest since telephone surveys began in 2009.

Of the 25,788 hunters licenced to hunt Stubble Quail, 22 per cent actively hunted in 2024. On average, active quail hunters harvested an estimated 79.4 Stubble Quail for the season over 8.5 days.

The most popular quail hunting areas were around the towns of Shepparton, Echuca, Rochester, Ballarat and Colac. The highest number of quail harvested were around the towns of Shepparton, Ballarat, Echuca, Rochester and Wangaratta.

GMA Director of Strategy and Research, Simon Toop, said the research was based on information gathered from randomly selected licenced game bird hunters who voluntarily participated in the surveys.

"Favourable environmental and breeding conditions and more active hunters likely resulted in an increase in the number of ducks and quail harvested," Mr Toop said.

"The information hunters provide helps build a stronger understanding of gamebird harvest trends and hunting activity in Victoria and I'd like to thank all hunters who participated in the surveys."

Unofficial

Throughout 2024, approximately 3,458 licenced game

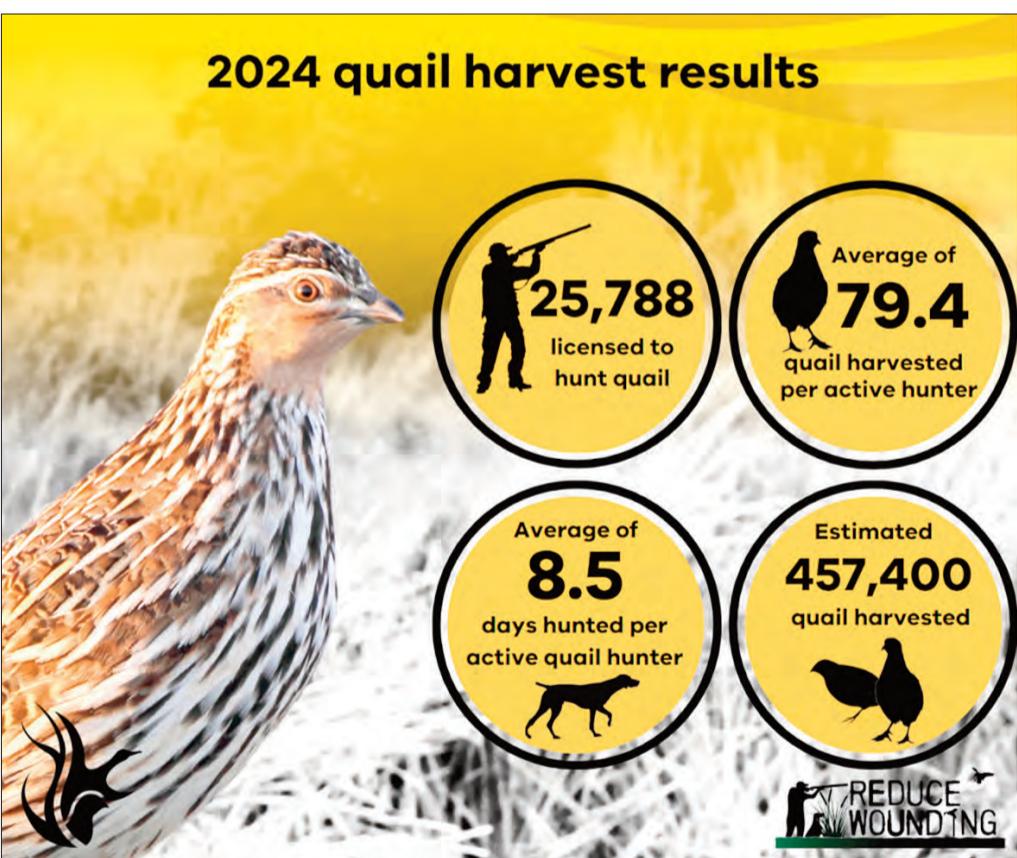

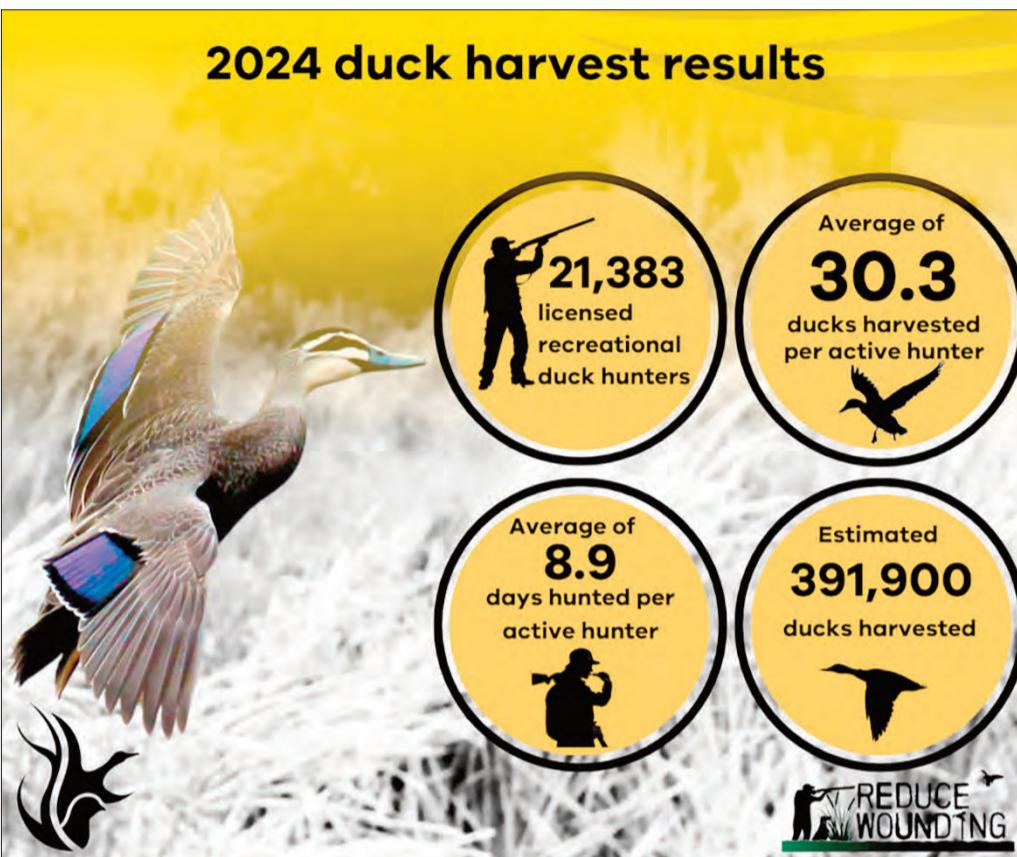

bird hunters were surveyed to collect information about their hunting activity, including how many game birds were harvested, where hunting occurred, hunting methods used, and the species of game birds harvested.

The report provides estimates of the total harvests of ducks and Stubble Quail by Victorian Game Licence holders and provides insights on hunting activity during the seasons.

The report is produced annually by the GMA in collaboration with an independent telephone survey company and the Arthur Rylah Institute for Environmental Research.

Meet the Moving Church

An article by Bacchus Marsh Uniting Church.

This story starts in about 1880 when the residents of the small rural community of East Laen, about 10km southwest of Donald, decided to build themselves a Methodist Church.

Not much is known about this Church, but we can assume that it was a small wooden building, probably with a galvanised iron roof. This Church served its purpose for 45 years, but then, either because of its small size or its ageing structure, it was deemed no longer adequate, and the decision was made to build a new Church.

Thanks to the "The Donald Times" we accessed good records of the celebration of the opening of the new Church on November 16, 1924, and the following are excerpts from the words written at the time.

"....warm sunshine prevailed on Sunday last, when the newly erected Methodist Church at East Laen was opened..... The new building erected beside the old Church, which had done good and faithful service for forty-five years and which has now been purchased by Mr H. Hancock, is walled with weatherboards and roofed with iron and is capable of seating a much larger congregation than the old one. Incorporated in the structure are a front porch, and vestry room. The interior of the building is nicely finished, being lined with fibrous plaster above the varnished Tasmanian hardwood dado, and ceiled with Wunderlich stamped metal, painted a light cream. Three stained glass windows of light amber shade and embellished with suitable symbols, executed in crimson and blue, admit the light and a raised dais has been provided for the choir. This is railed off in varnished Tasmanian hardwood of which the handsomely designed pulpit is also composed. The cost of construction was approximately £1000."

A major feature of the new Methodist Church as mentioned above was the huge memorial stained glass window. This window is now recorded by Heritage Victoria and is best described in their words.

"The Memorial Window – On Sunday, November 16 (1924), the opening morning service was conducted by the Rev. D. J. Flockart and during the afternoon the Rev. J. W. Dean unveiled a stained glass window, presented to the Church by the family of Mr and Mrs C. R. Basset, in memory of their brother Maurice, who was killed in Ypres in 1917. Brooks, Robinson & Co. received an order from B.M. Basset in October 1924 for a window with three lights. The central light measured approximately 77 x 17 inches, and the two flanking lights were 66 x 17 inches. The subject of St George was depicted with head bowed and poised to slay the dragon beneath his feet. The emblems in the side windows represented Victory over Death and Peace."

In the years following the opening of this Church little information has come to light. Maybe a decline in Church attendance and that rural population, and the closeness to Donald, led to its closing many years later. But a reprieve was at hand. Here at Bacchus Marsh, the small wooden Methodist Church built in 1890 was proving inadequate for the growing congregation, and in a light bulb moment, the decision was made to move the East Laen Church to serve as a new Methodist Church here in Bacchus Marsh. The move took place in 1961, and the East Laen Church, complete with stained glass windows, became the new Church, and the old Church became the hall. The location of these buildings was in Gell St on land now occupied by the shopping centre. So that became move one.

But more was to follow. In 1972, the local Methodist and Presbyterian Churches joined in preparation, together with the Congregational Church, for the formation of the Uniting Church of Australia in 1977. Now Bacchus Marsh had two Uniting Church complexes, and it became quite obvious that only one was needed, and that should be at the St. Andrew's Presbyterian site. So, in another light bulb moment, it was decided that the Methodist Church (the East Laen one) should be moved to the St. Andrew's site as an extra hall to help service the needs of a rapidly expanding town.

This shift took place in 1980, again with the stained glass window, and that became move two. Although it was suggested at the time it could be called "Wesley Hall" the name adopted was "Fellowship Hall". In its new location, the Fellowship Hall (also referred to as the "Play Group Hall") was put to use both to serve the newly combined Church as a Sunday School and also for refreshments following special services held in St Andrews.

In 1995 the old manse, which was located on the playground next to the Church, was demolished and opened up the space between the Church and Fellowship Hall. Then, in 2003, a decision was made to develop the Fellowship Hall as a play group centre for the Bacchus Marsh community and, together with a safe fenced-in playground where the old manse had stood, this is how we see the site today. Currently, there are 12 groups meeting in the course of an average week, catering for 80 to 100 families and at least 100 children.

100 years on and the East Laen Methodist Church is still very alive and active and continues to serve the community as it always has, even though it took two shifts to achieve this in its first centenary.

Note: East Laen Church and the East Laen School were side by side in the paddock on the right hand side of the driveway to Robert and Debbie Adams's current home. There is a plaque marking the school.

The "Donald Times" November 18, 1924 East Laen's New Church Opening Services and Presentations

"These walls we to Thy honour raise; Long may they echo to Thy praise."

In marked contrast to the weather on the occasion of the opening of the Swanwater West Jubilee Church, warm sunshine prevailed on Sunday last, when the newly-erected Methodist church at East Laen was opened. Long before the appointed time (3 p.m.) members of the congregation and visitors from Swanwater, Jeffcott, Cope Cope, Avon Plains, Traynor's Lagoon, Watchem, Donald, Rich Avon, Laen and Litchfield began to arrive, the array of cars being most imposing.

After the singing of the Doxology by those assembled outside the building, Mr. C. W. Basset presented Mrs. H. S. Pope, who had been a member of the congregation for years, with a silver key, with which she unlocked the door of the porch. Miss Maggie Pope presided at the organ as the congregation entered the church.

Memorial Window

A feature of the construction of the church is the fine presentation window which has been placed in the porch. The window, which is of stained glass, is in three panels, the centre division depicting the armoured figure of St. George, the patron Saint of England, standing with drawn sword. Beneath the figure is the following inscription:

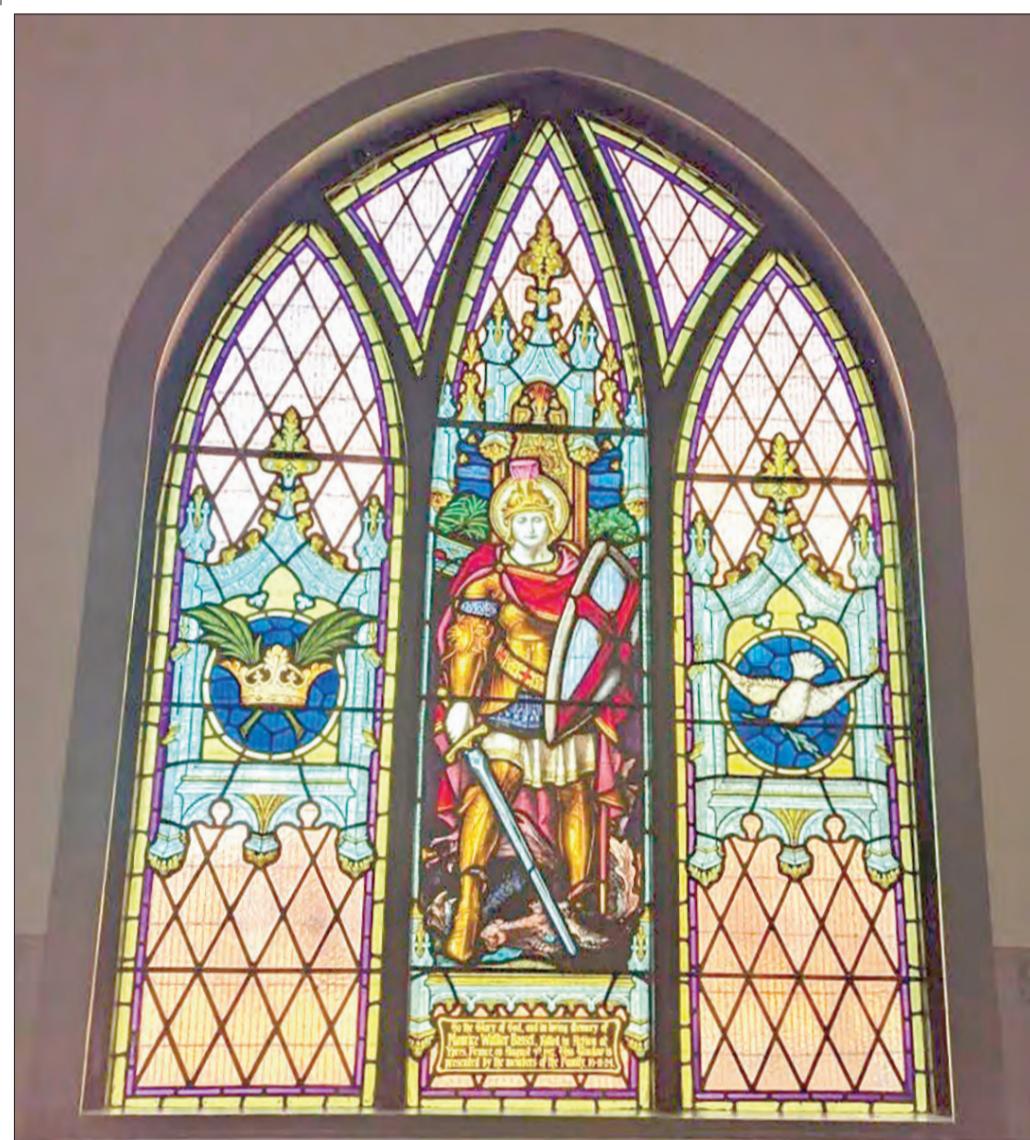

"To the Glory of God, and in loving memory of Maurice Walker Basset, killed in action at Ypres on the 9th of August, 1917. This window is presented by the members of the family, 16/11/24."

The sides are occupied by representations of the Dove of Peace, bearing the olive branch, and, on the left, by the Crown of Life. The window is a splendidly-executed piece of work, in which the colours employed blend to the best effect, and was very much admired by those present.

As soon as the large congregation was seated, the Rev. J. W. Crean called on Mr. A. E. Basset to make the presentation, which he did in the following words: "On behalf of my late parents, and my brothers and sisters, I present to the congregation of the East Laen Methodist Church this window, in memory of our late brother, who was killed in the Great War."

In returning thanks on behalf of the congregation, Rev. J. W. Crean remarked that, by a strange coincidence, it was just six years ago, to the day (16th November) since the late Mr. C. R. Basset, the father of the family who had made the presentation of the window, had laid the foundation stone of the Parsonage in Donald. Their thoughts went back to the deceased gentleman, who had done so much to establish Methodism in this district, and who had stamped the youth of the district with his personality, and with the likeness of Christ.

It was a happy thought that prompted the donors to choose the figure of St.

George. When Richard of the Lion-Heart returned to England after his Crusades, and wished to establish a knighthood, he chose St. George as its patron. History had it that the great saint slew the dragon in order that the sacrificial offering of children to the monster should not continue. In the same way the sons of Australia had answered to the Empire's call to protect their loved ones at home.

Mr. A. P. Bath, senior circuit steward, congratulated the congregation on having been presented with such a worthy memorial and spoke briefly on the value of prayer. Prayer in days not far distant, when the enemy was pressing forward in great numbers. While our soldiers were fighting, the people were praying for peace with victory.

Just as we could see God in the waters of the sea, bidding the incoming tide come "so far, and no further," so could we see His hand in the stemming of the enemy's advance.

As they looked at the window which had been presented, they stood in silent and solemn admiration of the soldiers who fell in the cause of righteousness.

The members of the young generation of today should strive to remember and act up to the great name which their brothers had established and should also remember that, if they learned to rely more on the power of prayer, they had a great future before them.

Presentation of Bible

Before the commencement of the afternoon service, Mr. H. S. Pope, on behalf of Messrs. Pope brothers, presented to the church trustees a handsome volume of the Holy Bible, congratulating them on having erected such a fine building. Rev. J. Crean thanked the donor, for their generous gift. Services were conducted both in the afternoon and evening.

Quambatook Prepares for Harvest Working Days

Quambatook Heritage Working Machinery Association members have been working on various projects in readiness for their annual Harvest Working Days to be held on the Australia Day weekend, 25th and 26th of this month.

The Shearer header, which has had most of its woodwork replaced, is ready to run and so members have been able to turn their attention to other items of machinery!

In August of last year, the Association was offered the pick of some farm machinery on a farm in central New South Wales.

Some of its members travelled north with three trucks and four trailers (one road train) and spent a day looking and then loading five old trucks and four tractors.

The trucks were a F600 Ford, a Jailbar Ford, a Kew Dodge, a Maple Leaf Chevy and an "O" model Bedford. All trucks except the F600 are fitted with gravity grain bins.

The tractors were a Chamberlain Countryman (with 354 Perkins), a Fordson Super Major, a 35 Massey Ferguson and an "N" model Fordson.

The Chamberlain was the previous owner's main tractor and is in excellent order.

The 35 Fergie has had a new starter-motor fitted as well as spark plugs and coil replaced. The old "N" model Fordson may take a little longer to restore!

The Fordson has needed a new lift pump and the injector pump has been repaired and a hole in the fuel tank mended. We think this tractor will work well pulling the Shearer header.

These machines, as well as many others will be on display, and some put to work in a wheat crop grown for the purpose, at the Quambatook Heritage Working Machinery Association's Harvest Working Days to be held on the Australia Day weekend, 25th and 26th of January. There will also be a vintage tractor-pull on Saturday afternoon. The event is fully catered for.

Accommodation is available at the Quambatook Caravan Park, phone 0428 85712.

For more information contact Doug on 0427 346634 or Ian 0427 571381.

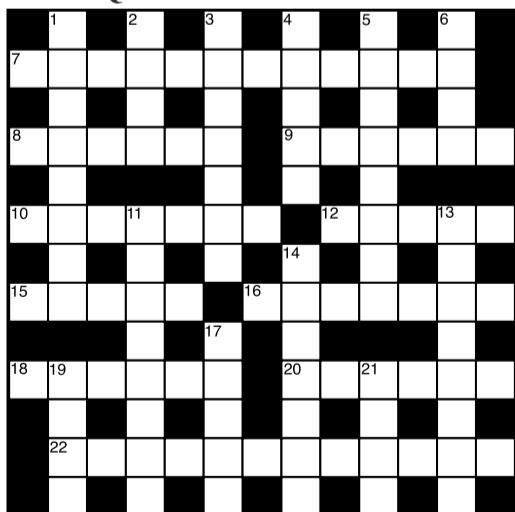

• Club members Darby and Bob checking the workings of the Shearer header the club members have been restoring.

• Loaded and ready to go! Five vintage trucks and four tractors loaded for the return trip to Quambatook to add to our collection.

Don't Let Your Campfire Ruin the Long Weekend

Fire authorities and public land managers are reminding campers to make sure they check the conditions and brush up on campfire safety ahead of the upcoming long weekend.

The Conservation Regulator, Parks Victoria, and Forest Fire Management Victoria will be conducting patrols in Victoria's parks and forests throughout the weekend to make sure campers are doing the right thing.

"Our authorised officers will be visiting campsites throughout Victoria's parks and forests making sure everyone is following the rules so we can all have a safe and enjoyable long weekend," said Chief Conservation Regulator Kate Gavens.

A total of 257 unattended campfires and barbecues have been detected by the Conservation Regulator, Parks Victoria and Forest Fire Operations field staff on public land so far this financial year.

Over the last few weeks where Total Fire Bans have been declared, fire authorities and land managers continue to detect illegal campfires across the state during extreme weather conditions. Heavy penalties apply for anyone lighting a campfire on a Total Fire Ban day.

Many people try to put out campfires incorrectly with soil, or not enough water to extinguish them completely. Fires that haven't been properly extinguished can smoulder under soil for days and reignite in the right conditions – if it is cool to touch it is safe to leave.

"Even if a Total Fire Ban has not been declared, we encourage campers to consider the need for a campfire on hot or windy days," said Chris Hardman, Chief Fire Officer, Forest Fire Management Victoria.

"If you are building a campfire, make sure you know how to build a safe one, don't leave it unattended while it is alight and that you put it out with water. If the ashes are cool to touch – it's safe to leave. It only takes one stray ember to cause a destructive fire."

Plan Ahead

To ensure campfires are safe:

- Before you light a fire always check fire restrictions, including whether a Total Fire Ban is in place. Download the VicEmergency app or go to <https://www.emv.vic.gov.au/>

- Plan ahead and consider alternatives for cooking such as a portable butane cooktop.

- Use a purpose-built fire-place if available, otherwise dig a trench at least 30cm deep.

- Always follow the designated rules of your campsite. In national parks, fires can only be lit in purpose-built fireplaces unless marked otherwise.

- The campfire must not exceed one square metre, and three metres above and around your fire must be clear of flammable material.

- Branches and logs on your campfire must be no longer than one metre.

- Never leave a campfire unattended – an adult must always stay within a 50-metre line of sight.

- Campfires must be extinguished with at least 10 litres of water every time you leave the site.

- All rubbish must be taken home with you, not burned.

"We want people to get out and enjoy Victoria's great outdoors, but unsafe campfires can have devastating consequences," said Chris Mercier, Manager, Enforcement Capability, Parks Victoria.

"It only takes one camper ignoring the rules to endanger the community and our environment."

Penalty

People who breach campfire regulations on public land face a maximum penalty of $19,759 if the matter is prosecuted in court. The maximum penalty for lighting or maintaining a fire during a Total Fire Ban day is $47,421.60 and/or two years in jail. Report unattended campfires to DEECA at 136 186 or call 000 to report a bushfire. For more on campfire rules go to: <https://www.vic.gov.au/campfires-stoves-and-bbqs>

As Holidays Draw to an End... Community Spirit Reignites in Birchip

As the summer holidays wind down, the Birchip community is gearing up for a vibrant summer of events, spearheaded by local volunteers, community organisations, and sporting clubs.

Local summer sport has resumed, pre-season winter sports training has commenced, the pool is open every day, including two early morning sessions for lap swimming on Wednesday and Friday and two water aerobics sessions facilitated by Brenda and Maddie Doran on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Tchum Lake is buzzing with people swimming and enjoying water sports, walks, runs, barbecues and amazing sunsets, and the community calendar is filling up with an exciting array of events and activities that promise opportunities for connection, celebration, and shared experiences for all.

Australia Day

The first major community event of 2025 will be the Australia Day celebration at Birchip Memorial Park hosted by Birchip Community Forum. Everyone is invited to the community breakfast starting at 8 a.m., followed by a keynote address by William Ringin and the presentation of the prestigious Birchip Community Awards.

Once school returns for students on Wednesday, January 28th, the calendar becomes jam packed with exciting activities. The Birchip Tennis Club will kick off festivities, with their popular themed dinner on Saturday, February 8. This year's event, "A Night on the Green", boasts an Italian theme and promises great food, ambiance, and entertainment.

Entertainment

On Friday, February 28, the Birchip Tennis Club will combine with the Birchip Cricket Club for their ever-popular quiz night, offering a fun and competitive evening for community members of all ages. Community members are encouraged to get together their team of 6, and lock the date in their diaries.

Many people may have already seen the movie "Just a Farmer" but a free screening with a free pre-event barbecue dinner and post-event supper at the Birchip Public Hall on Tuesday, February 18th, will focus on the meaningful and poignant messages explored in the movie.

This is a collaborative event by East Wimmera Health Service, Birchip Cropping Group, and Birchip Neighbourhood House, with funding provided by FRRR to enable the community to watch the movie together and chat about the underlying themes of love, loss and the unbreakable spirit of a farming community facing adversity head-on.

The writer and executive producer of the film, Leila McDougall, will be in attendance to provide insight to her reasons for making of the film and the relevance the film has to rural communities like ours, and the role we all play in supporting each other.

Later in that week, on Friday, February 21, the Birchip Cropping Group will showcase its 2024 results and findings and its members-only Trials Review Day at the Birchip Community Leisure Centre.

Long Weekend

The summer activities will culminate with Birchip's biggest weekend of the year on the long weekend in March, incorporating the Mali Heart Street Art Festival and the Birchip Harness Racing Club Mallee Bull Cup.

This summer, the Birchip community has something for everyone. Whether you're a sports enthusiast or a socialite, there is lots of opportunities to connect with friends and neighbours, and keep the community spirit thriving.

Reforms Under Way for Non-Emergency Patient Transport

The Victorian Government will introduce a range of reforms and improvements to Victoria's non-emergency patient transport (NEPT) sector – ensuring it can continue to meet patient needs and deliver for the community.

This work follows an extensive review of the sector undertaken by Member for Melton and former paramedic, Steve McGhie, with the review reporting that service demand has increased significantly since 2019 – averaging 400,000 individual transports each year.

The review also highlighted that while the current system has many strengths, improvements are necessary to boost access, increase efficiency, and better meet patient needs and workforce expectations.

Improvements

In response to the review, the Government will implement improvements to the existing model, with licensed private providers to continue delivering services.

These include better integration and co-ordination of NEPT within the wider health system, strengthening monitoring of performance and patient experience, and improving staff conditions, governance and oversight.

To be considered for future contracts, private providers will be required to address the casualisation of the workforce through the implementation of permanent employment targets by 2027-28.

Strategies

Dedicated strategies will also be developed to support the attraction, retention and ongoing development of the workforce.

This will include ensuring NEPT workers can respond to patients within their scope of practice, as well as career pathways to support transitions between the NEPT, broader health and emergency sectors.

Work will also get underway to improve timeliness and reliability of services, so planned transports aren't delayed by crews being diverted to a Triple Zero caller.

To support this, HealthShare Victoria (HSV) – which is already responsible for the procurement of NEPT for health services – will assume responsibility for the procurement of NEPT for Ambulance Victoria.

More Timely Services

Contract arrangements will be revised to minimise NEPT responses to Triple Zero callers that, in turn, disrupt planned responses to patients who require clinical monitoring to return home or access health care.

The centralised procurement of NEPT services by HSV, for both health services and Ambulance Victoria, will reduce the duplication that currently exists, enable more timely services across the state and keep paramedics free to respond to patients experiencing time critical medical emergencies.

These changes will also focus on giving NEPT providers sufficient transport volumes to support viability and improve access to services particularly in rural and regional areas where demand for NEPT is lower.

Additional policy changes in response to the NEPT Review remain under active consideration and are subject to further decisions by the Government.

NEPT services are available to Victorians who require clinical monitoring and supervision during transport to, from and between health care service.

These reforms are just one way the Government is working to ensure both NEPT and emergency ambulance resources are operating effectively and efficiently and, most importantly, are available to Victorians when and where they need them.

The extensive review undertaken by Steve McGhie included an early discussion paper, public submissions from stakeholders and face-to-face consultation via a series of roundtables and 1:1 meetings.

Every year, the State Government provides $173 million to health services and Ambulance Victoria for NEPT services.

Health Network Plan Risks Local Autonomy

The Nationals Member for Mildura, Jade Benham, has criticised the State Government's plan to create Local Health Service Networks, bringing Mildura Public Hospital, Mallee Track Health and Community Services and Robinvale District Health under the Loddon Mallee Network, whilst grouping East Wimmera Health and Rural Northwest Health with Grampians.

• Jade Benham.

"Labor claims this will improve patient care, but centralising services has only made things worse for regional Victorians in the past. It's amalgamation by stealth, and it doesn't work," Ms Benham said.

Ms Benham has been calling for autonomy for our regions healthcare if Local Health Service Networks were to be implemented and illustrated how well the Northern Mallee Integrated Partnerships have worked.

While acknowledging that this plan offers a sub-network for the region's three services, Ms Benham remains cautious about its execution.

"Whilst it's finally a very small step in the right direction, the Labor Government is notorious for big promises with little detail. Communities deserve clarity, not vague assurances," she said.

There are also fears the changes will lead to job cuts and reduced services.

The Nationals are demanding transparency around these changes, including clear plans for workforce impacts and community outcomes.

"From crumbling roads to underfunded hospitals, Labor keeps treating regional Victorians as an afterthought," Ms Benham said.

The Nationals will continue to fight for the independence of regional health services and ensure local voices are heard.

"Regional communities know what's best for their health services. We don't need bureaucrats in Melbourne telling us how to care for our patients. Our communities deserve better."

December 2. Another Broken Window.

Between 9 o'clock on Saturday night and 8 a.m. on Sunday, one of the plate glass windows at Forer's Pty. Ltd. was cracked, seemingly by the impact of a stone or a knock from some sharp object. A small hole has been made, around which the glass has been chipped and splintered.

December 5. A Nonagenarian.

Death of Mr Carl Vogel. At the great age of 91 years, Mr. Carl Vogel, one of the oldest settlers of the Watchem district, died on Friday, November 21. The deceased gentleman left behind him a long and honourable record of hard pioneering work and valued citizenship. He was twice married and leaves a widow and the following family: Henry, August, Gustav, Paul and Bert. (Watchem), Mrs. C. Free (Gippsland), Mrs. Walters (Merbein) and Mrs. Carne (Wilkur). The funeral, which was largely attended, took place at Watchem on Saturday, November 22, the arrangements being in the hands of Mr. R. E. Carne.

December 9 Laen. A draft horse belonging to Mr. J.T. Loats of Laen, recently fell down an unused well, 12 feet deep and was badly wounded in the abdomen. The animal, which was kept moving, was raised to the surface by the simple expedient of filling the well with straw. The injuries necessitated the attention of a veterinary surgeon, and the animal is making a good recovery.

December 12. A Narrow Escape. Late Resident of Donald Rescued from Drowning. Knocked off her feet and temporarily stunned by a wave, Marjorie Morgan, aged 12 years, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Morgan, late of Donald, and now of Glenhuntly Road, Caulfield, was rescued from drowning at St Kilda on Saturday afternoon by two boys aged 16 years. Under the influence of a strong south-westerly wind the surface of the bay became increasingly rough, and none of the many bathers ventured beyond the shallow water. On the section of beach opposite the Beaconsfield Hotel, Beaconsfield Parade and adjacent to the West St Kilda Life-Saving Club building, there were between 400 and 500 persons. The girl entered the water between 4 and 5 o'clock. Suddenly from the shore it was noticed that she had disappeared. Shouts from the beach acquainted other bathers of the fact. For a time no trace of her could be found, but eventually she was seen in deep water about 200 yards from the shore. Marcus Kirsner, a Melbourne Grammar School student and Leonard Prosser of Beaconsfield Parade, swam to her assistance, and with some difficulty brought her to shallow water. After having received treatment from the secretary of the life-saving club (Mr. R. Radford) the girl was taken to her home.

December 16. Phew!

Mercury on the Climb. A long time has elapsed since Donald was so thoroughly baked as it was during the latter portion of last week. On Wednesday the weather was "warm enough" at 94 degrees, and prepared residents in a measure for a rise to 100 degrees on Thursday. They were, however, hardly keyed up to such a pitch that Friday held no terrors for them. From early morn the sun glared down relentlessly, until we might have been excused for believing that our Mother Earth had sideslipped a few miles nearer the sun. Towards the noon, domestic fowls began to topple over in their tracks, and conditions had become most uncomfortable, nor did the night bring relief.

At about 1.15 a.m. on Saturday

there was "the sound of a mighty rushing wind" accompanied by a generous portion of Mallee dust, but little benefit was experienced. Saturday was also a "stinker", although the mercury dropped from 108.5 to 103.5. Clouded skies seemed to betoken the proximity of some drastic change but this did not materialise until the early hours of Sunday morning when the "Portland Doctor" in the shape of a cool breeze, arrived in haste, affecting a fall of nearly 40 degrees in the temperature. (Note: 108.5F = 42.5C)

December 19, Cope Cope.

Jas. Bennetto took delivery of the first load of this season's wheat on Monday, December 15th, it being a fine sample of Federation yielding 10 bags to the acre and grown and delivered by Mr. Jack Pilgrim of Cope Cope.

December 23: The Scout Camp. Visiting Day.

The leader, Mr. C. Godden, extends a hearty invitation to all parents, friends and other district residents, to visit the Boy Scout camp on the east shore of the Little Lake on Sunday, the 28th of December, at 3 p.m., and to join with the boys in their Scout Service at 3.30 p.m., when Lieut.-Co. E.A. Harris will deliver a short address. For those who wish to bring provisions for tea with the boys, hot water will be provided at the camp. Arrangements have been made with Mr. Geo. Bassett whereby visitors may be conveyed to the camp, particulars being advertised in another column.

December 26. A Frank Opinion.

Councillor would debar Lady Drivers. During general discussion at the last meeting of the Donald Shire Council, the matter of the twelve mile speed limit in the town was mentioned. All aspects, including that of "driving to the danger of the public", were reviewed and the general conclusion seemed to be that only after a person was killed it be arrived at that motorists had been driving in a dangerous manner. Cr. McNab thought that old men should not be allowed to drive. "I would not grant a licence to a man over sixty or to a lady," said Cr. McNab. By way of explanation he continued "They lose their heads." Amid the general laughter that greeted the Councillor's candid expression of opinion, the president (Cr. Coats) reminded those present that they were getting away from the subject, and discussion thereupon closed.

Charlton 100 Years Ago

(Information from "East Charlton Tribune")

January 3 to 21, 1925.

New Year: When the old year was signalled out, there was hardly a soul in the street. Three car-loads went to Maryborough, two from the garage of Messrs H. J. Jackson and Son, and one from the garage of Mr H. Dew. Jacksons had two cars booked for Koondrook races, one for St Arnaud and one for the New Year's Day picnicking at Wooroonook Lakes, while for the last-named, Mr Dew had four cars ordered. The Lakeside was thronged and a glorious day was spent by children and adults. The Wooroonook Tennis Club invited St Joseph's Tennis Club out for a day's tennis; and the visitors had a pleasant time.

Camera in Fields: Visiting Charlton during the past few days, Mr Sutcliffe, of the "Weekly Times", took some interesting photographs of work in the harvest fields. At Messrs S. & A. Lynas paddocks, at Wooroonook, a McKay header was photographed in action. One of Mr S. Wood's paddocks at Wooroonook was also visited, and here bags were seen being filled and sewn. The farm of Mr W. Olive, at Yeungroon, was visited. Photos were also secured at Mr W. Cossar's farm where Bill, Sid and Jack Cossar were putting the same heart into the harvesting as they put into football.

Bold, Bad Bull: We have all heard of the proverbial "bull in a china-shop"; well, a new variation was provided in Charlton in the shape of a bull in (or rather at) the jeweller's shop. The time was about 6 a.m.. The bull evidently decided that a little diversion would help to pass the time away, and its interest became centred in Mr H. G. Barber's shop. Then it caught sight of its own reflection in the plate-glass; and it charged the window. The impact lifted the plate-glass out of its frame, the putty was torn away, and 1½ inch nails were wrenched out. But the window did not break. The bull was next inclined to turn its attention to one of the windows in the premises of Mr W. Wylie, but some boys who were about chased the animal away.

Big Blow: Whirling clouds of dust which enveloped the sky in a yellowish gloom, convinced Charlton and district that a passable imitation of a cyclone had been let loose. The rainstorm which followed was a nasty break in the good harvesting weather. At Buckrabanyule the whole of the verandah at the store next to the Gladstone Hotel was blown down. A considerable amount of damage was done in the district lying between Yeungroon, Coonooer and St Arnaud. Mr J. Ritchie, of Yeungroon, had a chimney blown off his residence, while the roof was smashed in, and the ceiling damaged. Mr Gordon Gill's barn was minus a roof. Mr E. Ritchie lost the roof of his stable. Several roofs in the Nine Mile district were blown down.

Glenloth: Mr Thos Allen was presented with a gold-mounted whip, the gift of Mr Geo Hagley (trotting goods manufacturer), for being the second most successful trotting driver in Victoria for the past season. Mr Allen had 14½ wins to his credit.

Snakes: Saturday proved rather an eventful day at the East Charlton Homestead (Mr J. Paterson). About 11 o'clock in the forenoon, a 6-foot brown snake made its appearance, and was promptly despatched. In the afternoon another of the same species, about 5 feet in length, was observed, and suffered the same fate as its predecessor. Both were killed within a few yards of the Homestead.

Under Canvas: Under auspicious circumstances, the 1st Charlton Troop of Boy Scouts held their Annual camp at Wooroonook. The weather was perfect. The routine was: 6.30 a.m. Reveille; 7, swim; 7.30 breakfast; 9 a.m. tent and kit inspection, prayers; 9.30 to 12 swimming; 12.30 p.m. dinner; 2 to 5 Scout games and sports; 6 tea; 7 to 9, campfire songs, yarns etc; 10, supper; 10.30 lights out. The Camp was under the personal supervision of the Scoutmaster, Rev. A. E. Freeman.

Nine Mile – a brief Historical review: With an increased number of people living in the Nine Mile district, owing to the working of the mine, a school was conducted in Mr Miles Winter's hut. The space was too small so a Hall was built in 1901 and school was held there. At the opening about 40 children were present – families: Edwards, Baker, McGurk, Winter, Dury, Ray, Robins, Carr, Nyah, Cross, Smale, Brookes and Griffiths. The Hall was also used as a Church. The Nine Mile Football Club was formed, captained by Mr J. McGurk. A cricket team was also formed. Annual Sports were held. The working of the mine became more difficult owing to the quantity of water present. Over 13 years £72,000 worth of gold was extracted. The Company dissolved in 1911. In the Great War over 20 brave lads enlisted and three made the Supreme Sacrifice.

Kissable, Naturally

Bad breath (halitosis) is a common problem that often comes from the activity of bacteria in the mouth, or as a result of congestion in the colon.

Although there is no way of knowing for sure, most adults probably suffer from bad breath occasionally, with perhaps a quarter suffering on a regular basis.

Common symptoms of bad breath are dryness in the mouth, insufficient saliva flow, poor cleaning between the teeth, postnasal drip on the back of the tongue, an onset of throat infection, dentures kept in the mouth at night or not cleaned properly, poor oral hygiene, gum disease, or excessive bacterial activity on the tongue.

Some people suffer from bad breath without knowing it, while others build up exaggerated fears about a breath odour even though they do not have it. The best way to find out whether you have bad breath is to ask someone else's opinion. If you don't ask, other people are unlikely to tell you.

If you have reason to believe that there is a problem, add two drops of peppermint oil to a cup of warm water, gargle for a few minutes and rinse. Repeat as often as needed. Or try chewing a fragrant cardamom pod two or three times a day. Parsley is also a natural breath freshener, and eating a few sprigs after a meal will help.

An increased fibre content helps bowel regularity, and so counters the problem from the inside by reducing gas pressure build-up. Include plenty of peas, potatoes, bananas, brown rice and barley in your diet.

The following "Green Herbal Drink" is also excellent for bad breath, as well as being highly nutritious and cleansing. Make this fresh each day and drink morning and night.

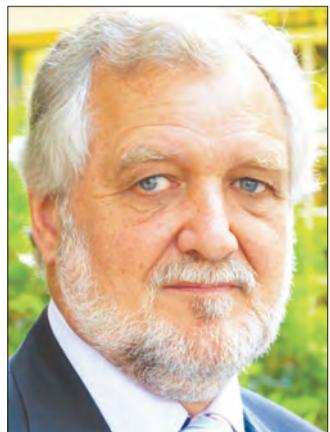

Process in a blender, 250 grams of wild herbs, such as chickweed and dandelion (mixed or on their own), two tablespoons of finely chopped parsley and/or watercress or celery, one teaspoon of cider vinegar, one small carrot (chopped), 250 grams of fruit (apple, peaches, pineapple or watermelon), and one cup of liquid to dilute (orange juice, pineapple juice, vegetable broth or mineral water). Drink your Green Drink immediately.

Gargling with a herbal mouth wash morning and night after cleaning your teeth, or whenever needed will also help to eliminate bad breath. You can make your own mouth wash by adding to a ceramic bowl, one teaspoon of dried peppermint leaves or a peppermint tea bag and ten cloves. Pour half a litre of boiling water over the ingredients, then add half a cup of apple cider vinegar, cover and steep for twenty-four hours. Strain through clean, sterile muslin cloth and then drip through coffee filter paper. Store in a tightly sealed glass bottle. This mouthwash will not only keep your breath fresh, but it will also help to keep the gums in a healthy condition.

If bad breath is a result of Gingivitis, use the following mouthwash as required: dilute two drops each of lemon and eucalyptus oils, and one drop of lavender oil in one teaspoon of vodka. Blend the mixture with a cup of warm water, then rinse, but do not swallow. Any excess mouth wash can be kept in the refrigerator. Warm before using.

If bad breath persists, it would be wise to consult your health practitioner.

Managing Livestock and Heat Stress

Dr. Jeff Cave, Agriculture Victoria Senior Veterinary Officer

As we move through summer, heat stress in livestock can become a major issue both for production levels and animal welfare, but there are precautions that you can take.

The ideal temperature range for cattle is between 5 and 25°C, and for adult pigs just 18 to 20°C.

It is important to remember high producing livestock, such as dairy cows, are the animals most sensitive to heat stress. Poultry have been known to perish due to heat stress on very hot days.

As temperatures rise, animals use their energy to cool themselves – this results in reduced production or weight gain. Feed intake is also reduced further increasing these impacts.

High humidity can also play a significant role in heat stress. For any given temperature, the degree of heat stress increases as the relative humidity increases.

Heat stress can significantly impact the production and animal welfare of your stock. Check your livestock daily, looking for any signs of stress during hot weather.

Heat stressed livestock will seek out shade, drink more, eat less, stand rather than laying down, pant, may produce less milk and can be less fertile.

AGRICULTURE VICTORIA

On hot days, give livestock unlimited access to shade or shelter and good quality, cool drinking water. Make sure you are ready to implement your fire plan.

Avoid moving animals during the hottest part of the day and try to avoid on extreme days.

High quality feed should be given during the evening when it is cooler, as livestock are more likely to consume it.

If you are not living at a property, arrange for a neighbour to check on animals in your absence.

By making some minor management changes and taking a little extra care of your livestock in extreme hot weather, the effects of heat stress can be substantially reduced delivering better welfare and production outcomes.

For further information please contact your local veterinarian or Agriculture Victoria veterinary or animal health officer, or in NSW your Local Land Services.

The Victorian Farmers Federation (VFF) has welcomed the Federal Government's Disaster Recovery Allowance for those impacted by the Grampians National Park and Macedon Ranges bushfires and is praising local communities and farmers for heeding warnings ahead of the blazes.

VFF President Brett Hosking said while farming impact assessments are still underway, early indications suggest many farmers took early action well before the bushfires took hold.

"Early indications suggest widespread stock losses have been kept to a minimum, with the majority of farm impacts being shed losses, destroyed fencing and burnt pastures.

"I want to stress impact assessments are still under way, but at this stage it looks as though communities have heeded the warnings and prepared in the days before the worst fire conditions arrived.

"I would like to extend a huge thank you to the emergency services helping to keep our communities safe and the farmers that took measures to prepare their farms before the fire arrived.

"For those who have been impacted, it's devastating, and we're continuing to work with the government to ensure support gets to those who need it. I intend to visit the Grampians region later this week to get a first-hand look at the damage and hear directly from impacted members.

"It never ceases to amaze me how the community pulls together in times like these, especially the truck drivers and companies who are delivering fodder to burnt out farmers off their own back. I'll be raising with decision makers the potential of government assisted subsidies to support these drivers to continue their vital work," Mr Hosking said.

For those wishing to lend a helping hand, the VFF's Disaster Relief Fund is taking monetary donations. The VFF Disaster Relief Fund is an independent charity that assists regional Victorians, including farmers through natural disasters.

"Those wishing to lend a helping hand can donate to the VFF's Disaster Relief Fund. Donations are tax deductible and go directly to those impacted by the fires," Mr Hosking said.

People wishing to directly support farmers impacted by bushfire can donate to the registered independent charity, the VFF Disaster Relief Fund online: www.vff.org.au/vffdisasterrelieffund/

Be on the Lookout for Marmorated Stink Bug

Victorians are being urged to remain vigilant and keep an eye out for the Brown Marmorated Stink Bug (BMSB), a highly invasive pest that poses a significant threat to agriculture and households alike.

Where Does BMSB Come From?

The Brown Marmorated Stink Bug is native to China, Japan, Taiwan, and the Korean Peninsula. Over time, it has spread to the United States and Europe, intensifying the risk of it reaching Australian shores.

This pest is particularly adept at sneaking across borders by hiding inside imported shipping containers, machinery, goods, and packaging – especially during the "brown marmorated stink bug risk season," which spans from September to April.

A Threat to Victoria

Although the BMSB is not yet established in Australia, its presence was first detected in Victoria during the summer of 2018–2019. The bug hitched a ride on imported goods and was found in areas such as:

- Clayton
- Dandenong South
- Port Melbourne

In response, authorities conducted extensive surveillance in these areas to prevent the pest from spreading and establishing itself in Victoria. While no further detections were made, vigilance is essential to ensure none took shelter during the winter months.

Why is BMSB Dangerous?

The Brown Marmorated Stink Bug is an economically damaging pest capable of attacking over 300 types of crops and ornamental trees. Its presence could devastate fruit and vegetable growers and become a major nuisance

Brown marmorated stink bug

Exotic Plant Pest Hotline: 1800 084 881

for households due to its habit of invading homes, sheds, and vehicles.

How You Can Help

Victorians are encouraged to inspect their homes, workplaces, vehicles, machinery, sheds, and gardens for this destructive pest. This is especially critical if you grow fruit or vegetables.

Check your luggage and packages when returning to Victoria from Asia, North America, Chile, or Europe to ensure you have not brought any pests, including the BMSB, with you.

If you receive goods directly from overseas (including online shopping parcels), look out for BMSB and other pests that may have stowed away in goods or packaging.

If you suspect you've found a Brown Marmorated Stink Bug – or any other unusual insect – take the following steps:

- Catch it in a secure container.
- Report it immediately by calling the Exotic Plant Pest Hotline at 1800 084 881.
- Visit the Agriculture Victoria website at www.agriculture.vic.gov.au/bmsb for more information.

Protecting Victoria's Borders

Preventing the establishment of the Brown Marmorated Stink Bug in Victoria is a shared responsibility. By staying vigilant and reporting any suspicious findings, you can help safeguard the state's agriculture, environment, and households from this invasive pest.

Busy Time for Golf Bowlers

Since Pennant commitments ceased before Christmas, Donald Golf bowlers have played a host of club events.

Bill Livingston was successful in winning the men's club championships by defeating Geoff Rigby in the final. Brian Bayles took out the "B" grade final by beating Tony Dionisopoulos. It was a case of "back-to-back" championship wins for both players.

David Peake was successful in winning the 21-up by defeating Robert Reseigh and Adrian Humphrey beat Geoff Rigby in the final of the 100-up.

With the resumption of Pennant on Saturday 18th of January, Golf defeated St Arnaud Country Club in Division 1 and 2.

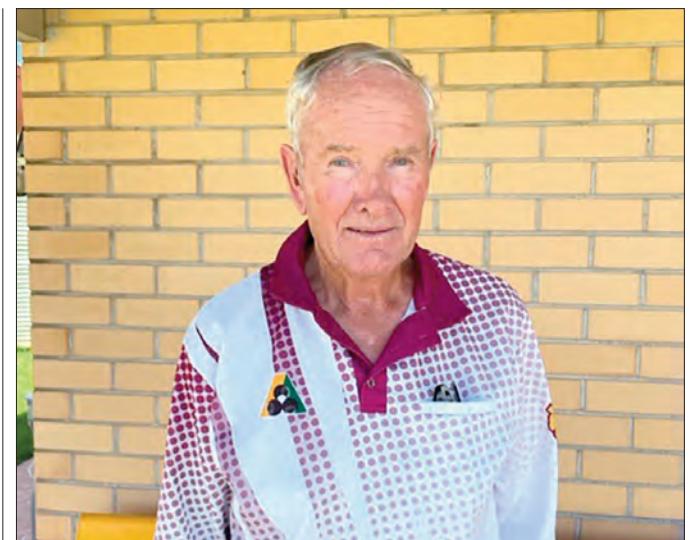

In Division 1, "Stumpy" Hibberd suffered a rare loss to Jason Abbott's troops, 14-28 shots. After a close encounter to end 16, Daniel Pettifer's team won the final ten ends to win convincingly, 31-16. Geoff Rigby's team completely outplayed Bill Rodger's team to win 40-14.

In Division 2, David Peake's team recorded a strong 39-26 win against Phil Elliott. Evergreen skip George Wood had a hard fought 24-19 win against Chris Webb's team. Brenda Dixon's rise to skipper was successful with a pleasing 19-16 win against Arnold Bond's men.

The wins in both Divisions consolidates Golf's position on the ladder. Golf's Mid-week Pennant team is also playing well and is currently placed second on the ladder.

• Championship winner Richard Haddrick.

• Brian Bayles (left) and Bill Livingston (right).

• David Peake – 21-up winner.

Richard Haddrick Wins Championship

Birchip Bowls Club held its men's singles championship just prior to Christmas.

Twelve players turned up and all thought they were in with a chance, which led to an interesting day of bowls

The early rounds saw some good contests with Mick Spicer defeating Grant Cartwright, who was subsequently beaten by Owen Reid. Richard Haddrick had also started the day well defeating Ray Barr and thus he had to play Owen, in a match he also won.

On the other side of the draw Tony Doran beat "Trolly" and "Frogga" in the early rounds but was then rolled by Kevin Reid, who had knocked out Andrew Lee in the quarter finals.

The final two left to play for the championship were Richard and Kevin. Both players had represented the Murray Mallee region a week earlier against the Wimmera region, so the cream of the club did rise to the top.

The final itself was tight from the start and nothing changed until Richard strung a few ends together late. This was all that was needed for him to win his first championship since arriving at Birchip a few years back. Kevin has been a multiple winner in the past.

The clubs men's pairs was also played pre-Christmas. Each pair played five games each in a round robin format with Des Ryan and Waffle Grogan taking all before them, winning four games and drawing one.

Barefoot Bowls

After a short Christmas/New Year Break, the Donald Bowls Club has been very active.

The club opened the New Year with Barefoot Bowls on the Wednesday evening of January 8. This event is over three nights in January, 8th, 15th and 22nd as a social event. The purpose is to invite friends and new players for a friendly get-together and play bowls, preceded by a barbecue tea and followed by supper. Peter Raines and team, Debbie Adams, Robert Adams and Adrian Humphrey won the three games.

During the same day, (8th), the ladies single championship final was played. Congratulations went to Lindy Morgan as the winner. Marg Quick was the runner-up. Marg had challenged Lindy earlier on in the game, but Lindy drew away after achieving a four on the 22nd end. The other games leading to the final were close, Marg defeating Brenda Brennan by three and Marion McEwen defeating Bo Subrom by six.

The second barefoot bowls game on January 15 was enjoyed by 33 players. The evening opened with a "Spider" – bowling to a $10 note. This was won by young Huxley Rogers. The nearest to the ditch was won by Brenda Brennan. The competition had more than one two-game winners, but the team with the biggest margin was skipper Peter Kelly, Siane Martin, Murray, Tony Dionosopolous.

The men's championship was played on Thursday, January 17 and was won by Norm Hollis over John Howley. Norm won three games on the day; drew Ian McEwen first and won 25-11 then played last year's winner, Hunter Wingfield. He beat Hunter 21-15 and in the final against John, he beat him 25-9. It is the 17th time Norm has won the men's single championship, congratulations were extended for such an achievement.

The Donald Hotel triples was won by Trevor Farrer, Brenda Brennan, Lindy

Morgan. The afternoon competition was followed by club members enjoying a meal together at the Donald Hotel, with the winners using their prize winning vouchers.

• John Howley and Norm Hollis.

• Margaret Quick and Lindy Morgan.

Monitor for Blue-green Algae in Stock Water

(By Alison Lee, Principal Veterinary Officer, Small Ruminants)

Livestock owners should look for signs of blue-green algae when inspecting farm dams, troughs and other water sources, particularly during the warmer months, when algal blooms are more likely to occur.

Blue-green algae, also known as cyanobacteria, are bacteria that can multiply rapidly under certain conditions.

Blue-green algae is more likely to occur when the water is warm and enriched with nutrients like phosphorus or nitrogen.

While blue-green algal blooms typically appear as green paint-like surface scum in water, they can also be reddish-purple or brown in colour. It can be difficult to tell blue-green algae from other less toxic algal species.

Toxins

Blue-green algae may contain toxins that damage the liver or nervous system. Drinking contaminated water can kill livestock quickly and a number of livestock may be affected at the same time.

Animals exposed to affected water supplies may continue to die over a prolonged period. In milder cases, productivity losses may occur, which in dairy cattle may be seen as decreased milk yield.

If a suspicious bloom is found, farmers should move their stock to an area on the property with a safe alternative water source.

Farmers should plan for managing water availability in the event that a blue-green algal bloom impacts their primary livestock drinking water supply.

Plan

The plan should include calculating how much water livestock would require if the primary water supply was unsafe to drink and identifying additional alternative on-farm water supplies that could be utilised quickly.

In the medium-term, your plan could include improving water reticulation systems, considering options for treating blue-green algae affected water, or agisting your stock elsewhere until your farm water is safe again.

A range of useful information such as the Blue-green algae: options for livestock drinking water factsheet is available from the Blue-green algae page on the website: <https://agriculture.vic.gov.au/arm-management/water/blue-green-algae-in-water/blue-green-algae>

Regional Housing Fund Snub: Mallee Kicked to the Kerb

Mallee's housing shortage is not being helped by the Labor Government, after Thursday's regional component of a Government Housing Support Program (HSP) announcement overlooked Mallee with one Shire particularly upset its application was rejected.

Member for Mallee, Dr Anne Webster, said the Coalition's focus on regional housing is demonstrated by their commitment for $1.5 billion to enable regional housing.

"I stand shoulder to shoulder with our Mallee shires who desperately need housing and have been kicked to the kerb by Labor's rejection yesterday," Dr. Webster said.

"Suburbtrends identified 3 of Victoria's 6 regional local government areas that are highest on the rental pain index as being in Mallee – Northern Grampians (2nd), Swan Hill (4th) and Yarriambiack (6th) while Horsham (18th) and Mildura (19th) saw Mallee over-represented in the 20 worst performing shires."

Yarriambiack Shire Mayor Kylie Zanker said: "As a Mayor, to say our council is disappointed is an understatement. We work relentlessly on funding applications, and to miss out again is just heartbreaking."

"We submit quality applications, investing time and money on consultants to assist to ensure our applications are of the highest standard, and to be unsuccessful is devastating. Four quality projects across Yarriambiack and not one funded. Our communities deserve so much more than the 'zero' that is being delivered."

Dr Webster said in September that Labor's home-grown cost-of-living crisis and reckless immigration policies were adding fuel to the housing affordability bonfire.

The successful Victorian HSP projects were at Ararat, Beaufort, Marong, Morwell and the Whittlesea Council.

"I have written to the Australian National Audit Office to investigate the allocation of funding under this program, and whether it was genuinely determined on the basis of merit and need," Dr Webster said.

Wycheproof Bowls Wrap

(By "Barefoot President")

I hope all bowlers from all the teams across the competition had a safe and wonderful festive season.

It certainly did not seem like a break. Things remained busy at our club and I am sure the administrators of other clubs and of the North Central playing area would say the same.

During this time the club hosted the State Pairs. Congratulations to Steven Zsigmond and Hunter Wingfield, who will represent our playing area well.

Wycheproof also hosted the Wimmera versus Murray-Mallee challenge and it was a great day for the club with some fantastic bowls on the greens. It is fun welcoming back a lot of the familiar faces that make quite a trip for this day. The selectors for these teams really have their work cut out for them. Congratulations to all bowlers representing the North Central in this competition and especially to those that made the Wimmera side that travelled to Ballarat this past weekend, including Jonathan Grylls, from our club.

Club Singles

Our men's Club Singles Champion was decided during this time. Congratulations to Jason McKay for taking out the title this year. The final between Jason and Jonathan Grylls was a gripping match – the scores were close the whole way through. That is another new name to our champion board, and there are still others at this club who I am sure will join them, such is the depth of bowlers we have.

On that depth, I'd like to thank all the bowlers who stepped in to help out during the rounds of pennant when we had players missing. Now comes the very hard time of year for selectors to pick sides from all available players and therefore having others step back down a grade or out of the side entirely. I thank all Wycheproof bowlers for taking these changes graciously, as we simply are in a unique situation with our club (and the new rule approaching the last three rounds has not made things easier).

Classic Triples

And then to the busiest and hardest two days, but really three, on and off the greens: The Wycheproof Classic Triples. Once again, we had tremendous support from across the state. More teams each year turn up for a Monday night prelude. Unfortunately, rain held back the preparations so we were not able to organise some fun activities on the Monday, but teams that showed up at least got to have a roll and some beverages afterwards.

The two days of competition were fantastic, with many bowlers enjoying the greens and each other's company.

The finals came down to teams from Terang, Murray-Downs/Wycheproof, Wedderburn/Bendigo and Swan Hill Race Course. A couple of those teams were surprised to find themselves in finals and ready for an early exit, but the tight nature of two of the sections meant the winners were not determined until the last game was played. With teams getting through that had lost games, it also meant there were at least ten other teams thinking, "That could have been us... if only for that last shot" or "We should not have dropped that game," and so on. A tight competition gets everyone thinking and more determined for next year.

In the end, the final came down to the team that did win all five of their sectional games: Laurie Witham, Damien Mason and Luke Hoskin. They took on the Terang team of Barry Stonehouse, Trevor Reece and the one known as "Kennedy". Whilst some may have predicted a one-sided affair, it was anything but. The Hoskin-led side got out to an early lead, but the Terang boys fought back with a couple of brilliant bowls from Reece. They were also holding at least 4 shots on the second last end before Hoskin drove the kitty into the ditch with the last bowl, allowing his team to take an unassailable lead into the last end, and therefore, on to winning this year's Classics.

Support

As a club, we'd like to thank all bowlers for their support of this event. We really do attract a great bunch of people with whom to spend an enjoyable few days (and nights).

As president, I would like to say a big thank-you and congratulations to our members and all other helpers who pitched in. Having two greens running for such a long time is hard work and Alan "Spike" Jones and a team of helpers have done a fantastic job. Several bowlers lamented not being able to bowl on greens as good as these. To the ladies who put on the food – well done. We only have a small number of lady members, so it was great to see partners, mums and others volunteer their time and culinary skills for the two days. Thanks to all the members who helped out with raffles, the bar and setting and packing up. Running these days is a lot of work, but it is all worth it when things go as smoothly as they did.

A massive thank you to all of our sponsors who also make these days possible. We have a lot of support from companies and businesses large and small and we appreciate every contribution made.

This week, I'll give a shout-out to Hommy's Butchers. Expatriate, Matthew, has been a big supporter of our Classics and he always pitches in when he returns home.

Other sponsors who contributed directly to the day included: Bakery on Broadway, IGA, Terminus Hotel, Wycheproof Motor Inn, McLennans, Wycheproof Mechanical Repairs and our major raffle prize of '2 Nights Stay and Play' from Club

Barham. (I will get to other sponsors in other articles).

And now the pennant fun begins again. All Wycheproof teams are in finals contention, so let's hope we can go on and qualify all three and then take it from there. Good luck to all teams for the rest of the season. Hope to see you on the greens soon.

Have fun!

Donald Hosts Wedderburn

A perfect summer day for bowls, no wind and an excellently prepared fast running green.

Donald did manage to win 3 rinks out of the six, but failed in both Divisions to win the day.

Hunter Winfield with Kelvin Adamson, Jack Collins and Trevor Farrer, had the closest of wins against the Laurie Witham's lot 21-20 in the end, although in front all day 20-11 on the 18th end to only win one shot in the last seven ends and nearly blew it.

Conversely, Norm Hollis with Lindy Morgan, John Howley and Ian McEwen also came home by just one shot over Damian Mason 28-27 also well in front all day 27-16 on the 19th end, to also only win one shot in the last six ends. Is there a lesson there?

The Twos: One rink win to Beryl Milne's team with Alison McEwen, Sian Robertson and Joan Wood winning by three shots 27-21.

The very busy time of year saw many players not available, so thanks for all who made up the teams, also to Wedderburn playing a substitute in the Two's.

Tiger in the Ditch

"With our region's hot, dry summer, it's vital that everyone takes steps to protect themselves, their families, and their properties from the risk of bushfires and grass-fires," Ms Benham said.

"That means proper precautions when using farm machinery, whilst out camping and driving around the region. It only takes one spark in our conditions for fire to erupt.

"We've recently seen an enduring hay shed fire at Dumosa once again so fire safety is something we shouldn't get complacent about at all.

"Remember to check haystacks often, don't light fires in the open air on days of total fire ban, obey the rules around campfires, clear vegetation around homes, and stay updated on local fire warnings."

The CFA offers valuable advice to help stay prepared, including:

- Leave early on hot, dry, windy days if the fire danger rating is extreme or catastrophic.

- Understand your risk and plan ahead. Tell your family and friends when you will leave, where you'll go and how you will get there.

- Do not wait for an official warning before you leave as there may not be one.

- Plan for your pets and livestock by deciding early how you will care for them on high-risk days.

- Check conditions if traveling, including at your destination and along your route.

Stay informed through local radio stations for warnings and advice.

Ms Benham also extended her gratitude to local firefighters for their tireless efforts in fire prevention and community support.

"Our local firefighters have recently played a critical role in combatting the Grampians bushfires and remain prepared to assist other communities in need, including the potential deployment to Los Angeles to support their firefighting efforts. Their dedication and bravery are deeply appreciated," she said.

Crucial Round Coming Up

With just three rounds of North Central Playing Area's 2024-'25 pennant bowls season remaining, next Saturday's round 12 results will have a huge bearing on potential make up of the Division 1 final four.

Ladder leader Wedderburn will be at home to second placed St. Arnaud, while Wycheproof (currently fourth) hosts St. Arnaud Country Club (fifth).

For Country Club to have any chance of securing a finals berth, it must secure all 12 points against Wyche., and then achieve similar results against Charlton and Wedderburn.

A Wycheproof win would effectively slam the door on Country Club's aspirations.

The rivalry between Wedderburn and St. Arnaud can be intense at times, and next Saturday's clash promises to be one of the keenest recent contests. Wedderburn (100 points) holds top spot by 8 points from St. Arnaud (92), with Donald Golf (also on 92) separated only by percentage.

Last Saturday's results added to the intrigue of a season that continues to throw up unexpected results.

Boort secured one of its most impressive wins after defeating Wycheproof by 5 shots and bagging 10 points to 2.

Shayne Morris accounted for Grant Allan by 8 shots and Kevin Depiazza got home by 5 shots over Paul Wellington. Only Jono Grylls was able to pick up 2 points for Wyche. after finishing 8 shots to the better of Laurie Maxted.

For a few brief hours on Saturday evening, the local bowls network was abuzz with news that Donald had pulled off the heist of the season by downing top side Wedderburn. Contrary to the early results published on Bowlslink, however, Wedderburn won the day, by 32 shots and 8 points to 4.

Donald scored two good wins, Hunter Wingfield sneaking in by 1 shot over Laurie Witham, and Norm Hollis downing Damien Mason by a similar margin.

When the first results came through on Bowlslink, it indicated new skipper Tom Gravestocks had done a number on Wedderburn dynamo, Alan Jackson, to the tune of 45 shots to 10, giving his new club a massive scalp.

Unfortunately for Donald, the scores had inadvertently been reversed, and it was the Jackson quartet that had prevailed, carrying the day for the visitors.

Donald Golf strengthened its grip on a finals berth, defeating the visiting St. Arnaud Country Club by 25 shots and picking up 10 points to 2. (See details elsewhere in today's "Times".)

St. Arnaud stayed within striking distance of top spot with an all-the-way win over Charlton by 30 shots, Ash

Dyke accounting for Stephen Perry by 9 shots, Steve Zsigmond downing Ken North by 17, and Terry McSwain ending up 4 shots to the better of Kevin Willey.

Division 2

Results in Division 2 and the scenario facing clubs focused on securing a finals berth are very similar to Div 1, with St. Arnaud Country Club (fifth), facing a season decider next Saturday against Wycheproof (first).

Against Boort last Saturday, Wycheproof reversed the result of the Div 1 encounter when it picked up all 12 points against Boort, thanks to wins by George Coatsworth by 16 shots over Greg Smith, Rob Grylls by 3 over Joan Earl, and Paul Connolly by 5 over Tony Matley.

In other results, St. Arnaud thrashed Charlton by 70 shots, Lloyd Goddard defeating Doug Gretgrix by 7 shots, Kerryn Dyke downing Gary Bateson by 19, and Laurence Goodwin enjoying a day out at Greg Wain's expense.

Donald had no answer to Wedderburn's depth of talent, and went down by 36 shots overall.

Carolyn's Birchip Club Champion

Another major event for the season has now been completed and it is congratulations to Carolyn Reid, the ladies club champion for the year.

Several ladies were unable to play due to injuries or ill health, but this did not stop the available ladies from participating in this event. The results are as follows:

Pauline Bragg defeated Jackie Tierney; Pauline then went on to play Carolyn Reid, in the next round, Carolyn winning to move to the grand final.

Jennifer Blainey defeated Moya Connelly; the final was played later in the day between Jennifer and Carolyn. The score card made for interesting reading as Carolyn got off to a very slow start. At the end of 10 ends Carolyn was 10 shots to Jennifer 14. Carolyn gradually bowled her way back into contention and it was 23 shots each on the 24th the end. On the 25th Carolyn scored two shots taking the championship from Jennifer, last season's champion.

Christmas Bowls

Christmas bowls was held on December 16th, when a shared luncheon was enjoyed by 12 bowlers and visitors. Prior to lunch triples was played, the winners being Moya Connelly, Carolyn Reid and Michelle Bragg. Peg Hogan won the spider and ditch to ditch was won by Carolyn Bragg.

As a Bowls Champion, Norm's in His 'Teens

As the 2024-25 lawn bowls season continues, talented player Norm Hollis has emerged as the champion of the Donald Bowling Club – for the seventeenth time!

Norm's first title at the Donald Park-based club was in 1975. Prior to that, his main sporting interest was eleven years of football with the Donald club.

"I cracked a collarbone playing footy," said Norm. "That's why I took up bowls!"

Bowlers Return to the Green

After an enjoyable break over the festive season, North Central Playing Area's midweek pennant bowlers were back in action on Tuesday, contesting round 11, which leaves only three rounds remaining prior to the business end of this season's competition.

Boort made it a very positive and productive resumption, accounting for St. Arnaud Country Club by 18 shots and banking all 12 premiership points. The win sees it back in the top four, after displacing St. Arnaud.

St. Arnaud ran head on into a potent Wycheproof combination, which won all three rinks by a combined margin of 41 shots, ensuring it continues to preside over the remainder of the competition from top spot on the ladder.

Donald Golf (second) which defeated Charlton, and Wedderburn (third) which scored a comfortable victory over Donald, also look to be firmly entrenched in the top three spots and bound for the finals, leaving Boort (fourth), St. Arnaud (fifth) and possibly Charlton (sixth) competing for the remaining finals berth.

Boort held sway against St. Arnaud Country Club thanks to wins by John Gibson (by 2 shots) over Rhonda Pole, Laurie Maxted (by 8 shots) over Bill Rodger, and Thelma Moresi (by 8 shots) over Des Moulday.

St. Arnaud had no answer to the overall depth of talent in the Wycheproof teams, Alan Welsh going down to Aaron Mead by 5 shots, Phil McRae coming up 12 shots short of Matt Nicholls's 32, and Lloyd Goddard trailing Jono Grylls by 24 shots.

Donald Golf conceded one rink to Charlton, when Lynne Southwell accounted for Peter Hibberd by 3 shots, but when Geoff Rigby outscored Kevin Willey by 25 shots, and Shane O'Shea chipped in with a 3-shot win over Ken North, the margin in Golf's favour was 25 shots, and 10 points to 2.
